Many of us have a picture in our heads of what a traditional beach house should look and feel like. This property will definitely fit most of those images. Set on a north facing corner allotment the property enjoys a great sense of space and light. With its raking pitched roof, ample accommodation in 5 bedrooms, large deck areas and 2 living areas, the residence really is the epitome of a classic beach house design. Not only does it have the classic features, the combination of the design and the native setting evoke the feeling of a true coastal escape. The 621sqm (app) allotment is fully fenced, which is ideal for dog owners, plus due to being on a corner feels much bigger. The residence is positioned at the rear of the property which allows for a very usable front yard area ideal for family activities. The position is excellent being
