From the get-go, this substantial four bedroom home oozes class and sophistication in abundance. A portico covers your entrance into the home with a double height atrium and stylish light fittings. The contemporary steel single stringer stairs with magnificent solid treads recycled from the railway timber from the Anglesea line, lead to the upper level. The upstairs with high ceilings opens to the living area which is very light and warm on a cool day, with large windows with block out blinds facing north. The gourmet kitchen has Caesarstone benches, ample cupboard space, a walk in pantry, Bosch dishwasher, large 75cm Omega ceramic hotplate and stove with a glass and stainless steel rangehood. The adjoining dining area is spacious with views to the mountains and the lounge has a reverse cycle air conditioner and gas log fire. Outside the double doors is
